John Cabot University

John Cabot University, commonly known as JCU, founded in 1972, is an independent, four year liberal arts university offering undergraduate degrees and study abroad programs to English speaking students from all over the world. JCU has two campus centers located along the banks of the Tiber River in the historic center of Rome, Italy, and students will be surrounded by the extraordinary rich offering of a city of culture, history, art, creativity, business and international affairs.

At JCU students will learn in small classes from professors who encourage dialogue and use the city of Rome as a learning laboratory. Students will have the opportunity for internships at multinational companies, international organizations, NGO's, consulates, government offices, and museums.

JCU offers Bachelor of Arts degrees in 13 fields. Emphasizing the development of critical thinking, communication and research skills, JCU education will enhance students' knowledge about ideas and culture, but more importantly, it will teach students to think and adapt. This intellectual agility provides students with a strong advantage over those who have not had a significant international experience that will help students to advance in your career or pursue graduate study or both. JCU's slogan of "An American Education in Rome" sums up exactly what they try to achieve at JCU.

Students can study at JCU for one semester. In order to apply to JCU, a completed application form accompanied by a non-refundable application fee of €50 must be sent. JCU will also need official transcripts from the student's university as well as evidence of English Language Proficiency. The top 2 academic students who apply to study abroad can receive a direct exchange program with JCU. This means that these students would pay a regular UACS tuition for their time in Rome. JCU's tuition fee is €6,950 per semester, but UACS students can receive up to a 10% discount on tuition. Students will also need to obtain a permit to reside in Italy. Courses are offered in English. Their website is www.johncabot.edu. John Cabot's address is Via della Langara 233, 00165 Rome, Italy and their phone number is +390-668-19-121.
